U.S. Bound Containers & Tankers... Pending Law Residual Materials Information Session

Pacific Customs Brokers is offering information sessions pertaining to the pending U.S. Customs Regulations relating to shipping of "Residual Materials and Liquids". This regulation will effect any instrument of international traffic (tankers, drums, containers, etc.) regardless of amount or type, containing residual cargo must be manifested and entered in compliance with U.S. Customs laws. By attending the information session, you will hear from a Licensed Customs Broker as well as from a spokesperson from U.S. Customs and Border Protection. This session will be helpful and informative to importers of bulk products, carriers of cargo where residual materials remain on board, shippers, self-carried load shippers (petroleum, chemicals, food liquids, waste products, slops, cement, etc.).

Topics of the Session Include:

- ▶ History of the regulation
- ▶ Need to make entry
- ▶ Right to make entry
- ▶ Estimates & entry amendments
- ▶ E-manifest
- ▶ Bond requirements
- ▶ Other Government Agencies implications
- ▶ Toxic Substance Control Act requirements
- ▶ Chemical Abstract Services requirements
